

Contractors. Requirements Profile.

---

FAY

Do you have the necessary capacities, the know-how and the resources to cope with ambitious building projects of the use types office, retail, hotel or residential? We are always looking for competent partners in the planning and building sector, and seek both prime contractors for package contracting and sole contractors for trade-specific jobs.

When executing ambitious projects, we like to reinforce our project team with competent partners from the planning and building sector, assembling a fresh team for each project to optimally address its specific requirements.

We directly commission planners to handle the development planning processes all the way to the planning approval procedure, while we handle the quality control during the implementation phase in our own right. The detailed planning and the actual building works are awarded through multi-trade contracting.

We expect our prime contractors to maintain a high standard in their own organisation as well as in their implementation of the contractually agreed qualities. Historically, the successful completion of our projects has been rooted in clearly structured planning and construction processes in combination with the technical and social competence of the staff in charge. And we intend to keep it this way going forward.

Essential preconditions for our selection of prime contractors include moreover the criterion of financial independence and relevant testimonials for the respective types of use.

Ask a question or get directly in touch:
Thomas Frank, Managing Director
+49 (0)621 39 174 444